

Shortest Railway Shy Its Only Engine

July 24.—Reports from today indicated that the talks between the negotiators for the settlement of the dispute between the unions and engineers of 1934-35 are in progress here. The talks between the federal officers and representatives of the unions were resumed this morning under a secret agreement to discuss the slow suits the B. & O. quietly recovered the engine one night a week ago. The M. & D. railway runs from a point half a mile east of Lore City to Washington, four miles. It was built by Chicago & capitalists to tap eastern Ohio wood fields. Besides the missing engine the road owns a passenger coach, a box car and a flat-car.

K. OF P. ENCAMPMENT
Torrre Haute, Ind., July 24.—
With the conclusion today of the prize drill contests in which the teams entered in Class C' will complete the formal activities of the International Biennial encampment of the Uniformed Knights of Pythias, will come to an end. The awards will be announced tomorrow.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 24.—Three men employed as petition circulators by the Ohio State Board of Commerce were to be arraigned in police court today on charges of forgery. The three were arrested last night by detectives and 400 soldiers in the last of a series of raids on petition offices on charges of forging signatures to initiative petitions on the proposed tax amendment. The prisoners said they had been employed Wednesday by the Ohio State Board of Commerce of which O. K. Shimasky is secretary. E. R. McCarter, attorney, has been in charge of the bond work in securing signatures. Shimasky telephoned McCarter to Columbus to help prosecute the men. McCarter told the police he had no money to pay for the 400 soldiers in the last 30 days. Each soldier was paid $2.00 for a petition containing 50 names. More than 15,000 names had been obtained, he said. McCarter said the Commerce Board would assist in the prosecution. Only one petition had been accepted from the printer he said. The detectives say the three men were sitting on a bench copying names from a telephone directory. The arrests were the first recorded under Governor Cox's revised initiative and referendum law providing for a penalty for forging signatures to petitions. Other arrests are expected to be made in Toledo today. A close examination will be made of the illegit signatures of the members of the Ohio Board of Commissioners.

Rev. Hughes Will Discuss Wet And Dry Fight In Ohio

The wet and dry fight in Ohio will be discussed by Rev. Alfred Hughes at Bigelow M. E. church Sunday evening at 7:30. Rev. Hughes has prepared a list of questions pertaining to this all-absorbing issue which he will answer from the pulpit.

"Who brought on this fight? What does the wet petition ask for? What if it carries? What does the dry petition call for? What should our churches do?" are some of the questions he will reply to. The sermon will be illustrated with stereopticon slides and special music has been arranged for the evening. Miss Bertha Stainer will sing a solo. All who care to hear the sermon are invited to attend. By way of announcing his sermon for Sunday evening, Rev. Hughes is sending the following letter to members of his church:

"Dear Friends:—Our service on next Sunday evening is to be devoted to the present state-wide temperance fight. Bigelow church must throw all her resources into this campaign. This service opens our campaign. The work of a half century in our state hangs in the balance. We may lose all our laws or we may win all we have worked and prayed for. It is no time for church members to be negligent of duty. The church can do just what its members allow it to do.

"Much misunderstanding exists as to why we are waging this campaign and as to the issues involved. These facts will be made clear. I am asking you to use every effort to bring to the service those who may be in doubt as to these facts.

"Notice to the Women

"Every woman who is a member of Bigelow church is urged to remain at the close of the church service to consider the best methods of assisting in the campaign. All other women are welcome. Will you not come and bring as many others as possible!

"Your Pastor,

"ALFRED F. HUGHES."

As the Breeze Spoke and Rim works has shut down for the last two days of the week, the two ball teams, The Veneer Workers and the Rim Workers played their weekly game at Millbrook park Friday morning instead of Saturday. The Veneer Workers were victorious, winning by a score of 17 to 6. Bays and Bartlett worked for the winners while Aldridge and Moon were in the points for the Rim Workers.

Mrs. James Keever and children spent Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. George Simkins of Gallia pike.

Miss Margaret Carter, who fell in the park several weeks ago, and broke her right arm, is getting along nicely.

William Carter, of the Gallia pike, continues to make his large pickled pork sales. Thursday he sold E. Kiekey of Harrisonville two hundred pounds of the pickled meat.

George Simkins, a Gallia street barber, is back to his chair after a several days illness.

Mrs. William Carter and Mrs. Josie Carter have returned from a several days visit with Mr. and Mrs. William Kinker of Phicker-ton, Ohio.

Edward Minor and J. R. McGinnick, steel plant employees, are enjoying a camping trip at Camp Hope, Ky., opposite the new water works.

FAILING TO AGREE ON AREA OF ULSTER KING'S PARLEY ENDS

London, Eng., July 24.—The facts of the conference at Buckingham Palace between the leaders of the various political parties had been rendered unproductive by its failure to agree on the area of Ulster to be excluded from the control of the Dublin parliament, was confirmed today by Premier Asquith in the house of commons.

The premier announced that every effort had been made to find a basis for the dispute as to the area but without result. Sir Edward Carson insisted upon a clean-cut for Ulster.

John Redmond and John Dillon, representing the Nationalists in the conference, demanded that the Catholic county of Tyrone should not be included. Later they also advanced the cause of Fermanagh.

Neither side would give ground. The debate would begin Tuesday, the premier announced.

(By Herbert Temple)

London, Eng., July 24.—The Home Rule peace conference is over. The fourth and last session was held at Buckingham Palace today. Today's meeting was the shortest that has been held, lasting barely half an hour. The briefness of the session gave rise to the general belief that the negotiations entered into by the request of King George had failed to settle the Ulster crisis. The only announcement immediately after the conference ended was that Premier Asquith would make a statement in the House of Commons giving the result of the conference and that no further meetings would be held.

Premier Asquith and Chancellor Lloyd, representatives of the government, who left the palace with Redmond and John Dillon, the Irish Nationalists, were widely cheered. After the departure of the coalition leaders, who have carried the home rule for Ireland bill to victory in parliament, Lord Lansdowne and Andrew Bonar-law, representing the Unionist party, and Sir Edward Carson and Captain Craig, the Ulster delegates remained for a short time with Speaker Lawther who had presided at the conference. It was reported that they were considering the government proposal which had been given to them for final decision.

Just as Carson, Lawther and Law left the palace, Lady Berkeley and Miss Edith Fitzgerald, suffragette leaders, arrived bearing a beautiful scroll. This was a petition from Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst to King George, asking that he call a conference of the political leaders to consider suffrage in the women. The women were refused admittance to the palace and left. Contrary to the usual suffragette custom, they made no threats as they departed.

Sharp criticism of the "civil war" reference in the speech of King George at the opening of the conference is said to have had a decided effect upon his majesty. He is reported to have felt the criticism keenly and to have remarked "once it was said, the King can do no wrong. But now it comes to the King can do no right."

Carbajal Is Ready To Transfer Power

Washington, July 24.—Direct advice to the United States today from Provisional President Carbajal, Gen. Carranza, Gen. Villa and Emilio Zapata renewed the hopes of officials for peace in Mexico.

Carbajal officially declared that he was willing to transfer the executive power to Carranza and had sent a delegate to arrange with the constitutionalist chief. Carranza has manifested his readiness to be lenient with the foes of the constitutionalists and give the desired guarantee.

Villa spoke of his desire to see peace extended on a basis of justice and liberty and gave assurances that he would do his utmost to restore normal conditions.

Official word has been received from Zapata in which he manifests a desire to join with the constitutionalist chief in rehabilitating the governmental machinery in Mexico.

El Paso, Texas, July 24.—Colima, capital of the state of that name, and Manzanilla, important west coast seaports, had fallen into the hands of the constitutionalist troops under General Obregon, said a report received here today.

FREIGHT RATE DECISION

Washington, July 24.—The interstate commerce commission announced positively that it would not hand down its 5 per cent advance in rates today. This is the first time the commission has made a definite announcement. Many persons took it as a hint that the decision would come tomorrow.

The building will be of brick with a frontage of 40 feet and will be two stories in height. The remaining 25 feet in the rear will only be one story in height and will be made into living rooms. ED K. WALSH DIES AT HIS IDAHO HOME; WIFE LOSES IN RACE TO HIS BEDSIDE

Ed K. Walsh is dead. Injuries sustained by Mr. Walsh in a fall from a wagon while in the mountains near of Soldier, Idaho, proved fatal, death coming to him Thursday afternoon. One wheel of the wagon passed over his back and his spine cord was so badly injured that practically no hope was held out for his recovery from the start. Mr. Walsh was unconscious most of the time and gradually grew weaker until the fatal summons came Thursday afternoon. In a race against death, Mrs. Walsh lost out by a few hours as the doctor's death pronouncement will not arrive in time for her to reach her husband's bedside. The body of Mr. Walsh passed away in that will not arrive there until Monday.

HOME DESTROYED WHILE FAMILY WORKS IN FIELDS

A fire that caused a loss aggregating $3,000 destroyed the two-story dwelling and contents owned by William Kanouse, on Hales creek, Thursday about 11 o'clock. A sum of money estimated at $100 was also lost in the fire. The loss is partially covered by $1,000 insurance on the house and contents. At the time of the fire three of Mr. Kanouse's daughters, Anna, who was ill, and Stella and Elizabeth, who were getting dinner, were at home. It is thought that the fire originated from a hot cinder falling on the roof of the kitchen. The house had a shingle roof and the dry weather of the past few days made it easy for them to catch. Mr. Kanouse and two sons were at the head of Jackson fork working in the field and Mrs. Kanouse and another daughter were out picking blackberries when the fire found their pretty home. Mr. Kanouse did not learn of the fire until several hours after it had wrecked his home. The kitchen was a mass of

Can This Be True?

Fully 500 people were in bathing in the cooling waters of the placid Qiuo river in vicinity of the dikes Thursday evening. It is said that out of town parties are figuring on putting up a large bath house near the foot of Union street. Afternoon bathing parties are quite the thing the terrier days. Oh splash!

Merchants Picnic Thursday, Aug. 13

The annual picnic and outing of the Retail Merchants' association will be held at Millbrook park on Thursday, August 13. The date was definitely fixed Thursday by the directors of the association.

The River City band will furnish the music and a feature will be an old-fashioned basket dinner, which will be staged near the Casino. There will be several ball games and various athletic events. Every merchant in the city is urged to take part in the day's festivities whether it is affiliated with the association or not. The directors are planning to make the day a memorable one.

SNAKE CAME FROM THE CITY

George Redinger, of Rosemount Road, bought a sack of feed bearings in the city, Thursday, and after his return home a daughter of the household, Miss Rosie Redinger, was horrified to see a snake crawl out of the sack. The reptile measured 5 ft. Mr. Redinger dispatched it with a club.

DEMOCRATS OF SCIOTO COUNTY AND THE SIXTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Senator J. L. Hudson introduced a bill in the 79th General Assembly which would replace the Ohio State Penitentiary to furnish electric current to other State institutions in Columbus. Prior to the enactment of this law the current for these institutions had been costing the State from $20,000.00 to $25,000.00 per year. Bills for light and power at these institutions are now paid by the Ohio Penitentiary instead of to the Electric Light Companies and the State is saving the cost of lighting the State institutions. A saving of more than $1,200.00 per year for lights is made at the State House alone.

Vote for Hudson for Congress.

The Charleston Senators will be in the thick of it at Midway, Tenn., on Saturday, and Sunday, when they will play a new season's ball. They have been drafted into the Southern League, and the new club, headed by Pop is honest in his belief that his successor will step up to the mark in the first ball. The team now has a stable lead, although the season is hardly under way and still has 20 days to run. Bobbly believes that the Senators are a quality of men, and that they have a number of the best young players in the league. The boys have played a pretty good game in a number of their last few days, and to both teams a great deal of credit. The Senators are shed full of pep and are playing the game with a lot of spirit. The Senators are a team of the way, and the new season will have their hands full stepping them to their forward push.

Signs New Contract

The Astor Game Clock put its bet on the designing Federals when it awarded the contract of building Collins, a knowledge that is the greatest assurance and testimony to a contractor for a number of years. Collins, it is said, was paid $10,000 in cash for his services with the Federal bureau. No less a high official, says McGraw, of the Giants, gives Collins the palm as the most efficient member of the keyhole position.

Why Ironton Failed To Get Into League

London, O., July 21.—London would not take the Huntington franchise because it was a "white" franchise and the second (and third) Huntington franchise would also because they would not want under the city would have such a large, profitable franchise of the National Club, but from Westbury, Conn., to make the franchise.

The above was the statement obtained from one of the men who were interviewed in the city to become the Huntington franchise for this city, and he said that the league had stated that it would deliver the Huntington franchise to this city and that had they done so, the franchise would have been purchased in about June, 1914, and would have cost $100,000. He said that the franchise of the club would have been made such money for the men taking over the franchise, but they did not come to him, and that of this story and that the franchise was possible.

It was stated yesterday that the league was holding the Huntington franchise and paying them a large sum of the Blue Sox franchise and the players of the Huntington franchise were obtained from Huntington and the Huntington players have received notice that they are free to go and return and Kelly, outfielder, and first baseman, and pitcher, have been placed in the club and that the players will leave for their home in a few days around the Huntington ground.

It seems that the members of the Huntington team are holding the franchise for their part but they are since the last yesterday, but the Huntington players are not yet in the club, partly at least. The members are usually doubtful that they will obtain the franchise.

BIG FARM REVERTS TO THE VULGAMORE HEIRS

Judge James S. Thomas announced his decision Thursday in the case of William M. Vulgamore and Charles M. Vulgamore against the unknown heirs of Solomon M. Vulgamore and others, heard in the Pike county common pleas court several weeks ago, finding in favor of the plaintiffs, who were seeking recovery of a tract of land, 160 acres more or less, in the late Judge W. D. James, of this city, and in which his widow claimed a dower interest. Her claim is invalid, according to the court's decision.

The most important question for the court to determine was whether the land in question was ancestral or non-ancestral property, which hinged on the matter of the paternity of Teresa Vulgamore James, first wife of the late Judge W. D. James, at whose death several years ago he acquired the property. The court held that she was the legitimate daughter of Judge Vulgamore, in spite of the fact that the greater weight of authority, outside of the state of Ohio, supported the contention of the defendants. Under the authority of the Ohio decisions referred to in the decision, the court was compelled to find in favor of the plaintiffs.

The case has been of annual interest in this section of the state, where all of the parties are well-known. The rough consideration of the case was given in the last issue of the Journal for both sides, and the case was bitterly fought.

The decision, the cost of litigation of John W. Adams and others was dismissed. The title goes in question, a large tract of land, later purchased by Judge James, and which is now the property of his widow, no part of which was involved in the suit.

John H. Nowman, state librarian, has informed Mayor Fitch that the records of the state library are at his service any time that he may care to make use of them. Mr. Nowman holds that records of municipalities are in a sense state records.

DIVINE PLAN OF THE AGES

Mr. Arnold of Dayton will speak on the above subject at the Grand. This is a topic fitting in well with the discourse at Grand Finals of Photo Drama. Those who heard the speaker of Tuesday will now be much interested in learning something of what God's Plan is. Many seem to think God has no Plan, but is taking things as they happen along and makes the best out of them He can. This is not the scriptural thought. God has a positive Plan, pre-conceived and pre-ordained which He is working out according to the counsel of His own Will. What is this plan? Can we get a knowledge of it? Yes, the Bible is full of it, pointing out clearly its outworkings and its fulfillment. Mr. Arnold will point out these scriptures to you giving you many positive proofs of a Great Plan. Hear him at Grand Opera House. Lecture begins at 2:45 sharp. adv

WEST END NEWS

West End Citizen Boyhood Chum Of Kaiser Wilhelm

While in a reminiscent mood, Friday morning, Louis W. Kern, West End baker, came forward with the information that he had the privilege of being a school chum of Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany. The two attended high school at Baden Baden, Ger., when they were still in their teens, and according to Mr. Kern the emperor was just an ordinary student and did not display any unusual talents along study lines. In fact the noted ruler was rather slow to learn, but after he had once mastered a subject, he never forgot. Mr. Kern stated that in nine days out of ten Kaiser Wilhelm was well supplied with money, which he handed around to his fellow students with a lavish hand. If he did not produce, then the boys would "maul" him for fair, according to the baker. When on a recent visit to his native land, Mr. Kern secured an audience with the emperor upon the strength of their boyhood acquaintances. The ruler recognized him at first glance and called him by his first name. At Baden Baden, Mr. Kern states that he learned to bake bread and make beer and whiskey.

Campaign Orator
Now comes the campaign orator, the of the foghorn voice. Who tries to tell us poor galoots how we should make a choice. The constitution, he explains. So hard, to earn his pelf. You'd think that each of them had been His lifelong bosom friend.

He charms the birds out of the trees. He hypnotizes folks. And punctuates his sage remarks With comic weekly jokes. He talks about George Washington And Lincoln without end; You'd think that each of them had been His lifelong bosom friend.

At times he "views with great alarm, And then he "points with pride," And tells us how the heroes of The Revolution died. The price of rubber in Peru, Or treaties with Japan. He can discuss with equal grace, He is a wondrous man.

We've got to listen to him, though. It is the penalty Of living in a country that The world proclaims as free. Of course, we always go and vote The way that we think best. Regardless of the siren song Of this perennial pest.

They all Fall for 'Em

Although blue eyes are said to be the strongest, and gray eyes next, many a big husky man has fallen for a pair of brown ones.

New Patent

A patent has been granted for paddle wheels to be attached to rowboats and operated by cranks. Not by rock-the-boat cranks, however.

"Wanted—Kiss cutters, experienced," says an exchange. A park policeman might be just the man to meet the requirements.

What Indeed?

Little Grace Jones was showing her pet rabbit to cousin Ruth, who was visiting her one afternoon.

"Look at it wiggle its nose," cried Ruth, "why does it wiggle its nose?" "Wiggling the bunny to her breast and giving the cousin a look of gentle commiseration. Genevieve inquired: "What else could it wiggle?"

Good for Protection

Mayme has a double sash, the bottom part of which drops in the back with a large bow. Alice, aged four, displayed great admiration for the gown. "I wish I had one like it," she said.

"But it would never do for you," Mayme explained. "because it isn't made for little girls. You would look very funny in it." "Maybe I would," Alice replied, "but that bow would feel pretty good when I got a spanking."

Floral Gossip

"I hear the lily pads," murmured one flower. "And the hollyhocks the family valuables," insinuated another.

Plan Improvements For The West End

Unless present plans miscarry the West End of the city will, ere many months, take on new airs and will blossom into one of the prettiest parts of the Peerless City.

Arrangements are now under way which, if carried out, will give to the people of that end of the city the privilege of hearing band concerts twice each week. Not only that, but the electric arches will be lighted and at least two promenades provided for. The scheme embraces vast improvements at York park and if all the plans mature, there will then be no room for complaint concerning the surroundings in the West End, where some of the best people in the city live.

Mad Dog Scare

There was another mad dog scare on the West Side Thursday evening and residents in vicinity of Slab Run gave chase and succeeded in capturing the dog. It was killed by Ed Distel.

The dog bit a cow owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Distel, who is the mother of Grocerman Will Distel of this city. The dog attempted to bite several persons, but they evaded the frothing animal. Jeff Dupre, a rural mail carrier, was the first person to run into the dog and he gave the alarm.
